

THE PHOTO-JOURNAL GUIDE TO ALAN CLASS COMIC BOOKS

Introduction

There are 1,472 Alan Class comics (not counting the 4 issues of Ally Sloper). All these covers are from my own Alan Class collection. At the time I started this book I still needed 35 issues to complete it. So, I copied the missing covers from the Internet and put them on the back cover page. I also included them in the book but in black and white to differentiate them from what I have in my collection. I hope this doesn't distract from your enjoyment but I decided that if I did use the colour scans taken from the Internet then I could have simply just done that for all the covers, which kind of defeats the object of what I wanted to do, even though in some cases the Internet scans are of better quality!

Obviously this book is personal to me and my imposed restrictions of only wanting to use scans from my own collection means that some of the cover scans are shall I say less than perfect.

The good news for me and this book is that during its creation each time I managed to collect another missing issue I replaced the black and white scan with a colour scan of my 'new' issue. So I hope there are not too many black and white scans left.

I have tried to keep my scans at a reasonably high quality so that if you magnify them they should still stay quite sharp.

The original Photo-Journal tomes had a note that for any missing covers..."when we do obtain these illustrations they will be made available to the owners of this book in the form of a correctly sized, full colour 'sticker' which can be mounted directly over each blank space. Write to get on our mailing list". Ahh, the 80's – such a simpler time. Less excitingly, I will just reissue an updated upload.

Enjoy!

- Tales Of The Underworld 10
- Uncanny Tales 187 (plus 2 'S' issues, and 1 issue with no indicator)
- Uncensored Love 1
- Weird Planets 23

Notes

All 'S' issues do not have a number, are all priced 15p and are all 52 pages, so it is difficult to know the order of publication. However, all 'S' issues have covers that were covers in that title's numeric run, some of which were reprinted more than once. Therefore, I have put these 'S' issues in the order of the first comic covers they reprinted in their title.

For example, for the 3 'S' issues of Astounding Stories the earliest numbered issues with the same cover are #1, #4 and #6. It should be noted that these numbered issues are 68 pages, so they are obviously not exactly the same inside -

S(1) cover is a reprint of issue #1 (incidentally, also cover reprints #54, #100, #129 and #160)

S(2) cover is a reprint of issue #4 (incidentally, also cover reprints #98)

S(3) cover is a reprint of issue #6 (incidentally, also cover reprints #99, #128 and #158)

There is one other 'irregular' issue of Uncanny Tales which is not numbered, not an S issue, has a 1/- price, is 68 pages and the cover is not a reprint of any another Alan Class issue cover. The back cover advertising "companion comics in this series" is exactly the same as Uncanny Tales #1 and #2 but different to #3. So maybe it is a pre Uncanny Tales #1 issue? However, I have put this issue at the end of the Uncanny Tales issues, after the 'S' issues.

There are 2 issues of Suspense showing number #90, being Steel Sterling in "The Deadly Masterminds" and The Jaguar in "The Jaguar versus The Human Octopus". The Steel Sterling issue has 68 pages and The Jaguar issue has 52 pages. No Suspense cover numbered #96 can be found, leading to the assumption that one of these #90 issues is numbered incorrectly and should be #96. There is a page count of 68 pages for every Suspense issue until number #97 when it changed to 52 pages. Therefore, I think it can be assumed that the Steel Sterling issue, being 68 pages, is actually issue #90, and so it is The Jaguar issue that has been numbered incorrectly and should be #96 which coincides with when the page count reduced to 52 pages. It means that I have put The Jaguar issue as number #96.

There are 3 issues of Creepy Worlds that have the cover title as "Creepy World" being #245, #246 and #247. It looks like that as the covers are reprints of the Charlton series "Out Of This World" that the 'World' part of the title was mistakenly used rather than what was used previously or afterwards.
